WASHINGTON CITY

Chinese and Tariff Questions.

Washington, May 4. Davis to-day presented to the house of representatives the resolutions adopted by the convention of trades unions held at San Francisco recently concerning Chinese immigration and the tariff questions. They were referred on his motion to committee on education and labor and are likely to exert a very favorable influence upon its consideration of the Chinese problem being both strong and temperate. There is no truth in published assertions that this committee has manifested an inclination to shirk action upon the Chinese question. The delays that have occurred are by no means extraordinary, and as this committee has not yet been reached this session in the call of reports from committees for action, nothing will have been lost by these delays in case a satisfactory report be agreed upon within the next week or two. The prospects for such an agreement have for some time been constantly improving under the pressure of persistent and sagacious efforts of members of the Pacific coast delegation, and on the whole more substantial progress has been made toward securing practical action by congress than there was good reason to expect at the commencement of the session.

Appropriation Bill Passed.

The house finally passed the legislative executive and judicial appropriation bill to-day.

More Arguments on the McGarrahan Case.

The senate public lands committee to-day heard further argument from Judge David Wilson, of Iowa, against the McGarrahan claim and adjourned the case till Tuesday evening. The committee have agreed to hear two more lawyers on each side, and the case is not likely to be taken under advisement for decision as to the character of the report before the end of next week.

Keeping Candidates in Suspense.

No palpable progress has been made this week towards the selection of successors for Surveyor General Ames and District Attorney Coghlan. Secretary Schurz says he is still awaiting the arrival of certain papers from California concerning sundry candidates for the surveyor generalship, and Attorney General Devens does not seem to have commenced to make up his mind regarding the other controversy.

Mr. Luttrell Unwell.

Representative Luttrell is confined to his room by illness but not of a serious nature.

The R. R. Sinking Fund Bill.

New York, May 5.—The New York World's Washington special says the president will allow the Pacific Railroad funding bill to become a law by the ten days lapse. The bill was delivered to the president on Wednesday.

Secretary Schurz on Timber Trespassers.

Washington, May 5.—Secretary Schurz has written a very interesting letter to Representative Page in response to the requests and suggestions contained in Page's recent letter to him and in the memorial of California state officers and other citizens to which his amendment was thereby formally directed. The Secretary says:

I have given the subject of depredations upon public lands of the United States careful attention. The statements contained in your letter and the memorial addressed to the California and Nevada congressional delegations, are not new and are similar to those presented to me from all sections of the country where there are public lands covered with valuable timber not open to purchase and entry. The fact that extensive depredations were being committed upon public lands made it necessary to introduce a change in the system heretofore followed for the suppression of such illegal practices. I deem it unnecessary to go into any elaborate statements of the consequence which must inevitably follow the reckless waste and destruction and the execution of the laws as they stand with regard to public timber may entail certain hardships to the inhabitants of certain states and territories where the timber lands in most part are unsurveyed or where timber cannot be obtained from the government by purchase or in any other legal way. Such hardships do not however relieve the executive branch of the government from its plain duty to see that the laws are enforced. To leave the laws unexecuted would be a dereliction of duty on the part of the executive branch. Moreover with a view to the necessity of preserving the public timber as a matter of public policy, it seems to me that the temporary and local hardship caused by the enforcement of the laws, would repeat themselves and real trouble would remain the same as now. Not only that, but out of respect of or the advantageous terms held out to those who break the law, law breaking will then continue to appear a profitable employment and more secure than ever before. The only permanent remedy lies in proper legislation as your petitioners have very fully pointed out. My views as to the manner in which the sale of timber from public land can be permanently regulated and at the same time the forests of the United States may be preserved in sufficient quantity were fully set forth in my annual report and a bill in accordance therewith has been introduced in the senate. If this bill becomes a law it will prevent the indiscriminate destruction of forests by permitting private parties to purchase public timber in sufficient quantities for all legitimate purposes without laying bare large tracts and thus prevent disastrous consequences. I shall recommend to the attorney general that the criminal prosecutions referred to in the petition addressed to the senators and representatives of the states of California and Nevada be continued until the next regular term of court in which such suits are now pending so that time may be given for such legislative action as the circumstances of the case seem to demand.

The Work before Congress--An Early Adjournment Probable.

Washington, May 5.—Owing to the forwardness of the general appropriation bills, it is thought by a number of members of congress that an adjournment sine die can take place toward the last of June. They do not suppose that the discussion of the tariff bill will occupy more than a week, and say that time will be afforded for consideration of the Pacific railroad bills and other prominent public measures. Strenuous efforts will be made this week either to lay the tariff on the table or postpone it until next session, which result would be equivalent to its defeat. Wood however, is still sanguine that it will become a law at the present session. There seems to be some uncertainty as to whether a movement will be made to-morrow or Tuesday.

As to the Florida presidential frauds Springer is mentioned as authority for the statement that the resolution opening the presidential questions has been prepared by the committee on judiciary. He has not seen the resolution but presumes it will be similar to Blair's resolutions calling upon congress to order an investigation of the alleged frauds in Florida and Louisiana, and authorizing the appointment of a committee to send for persons and papers. It is not thought such an investigation, if ordered, would occupy much time, as the committee on judiciary during the former congress thoroughly examined the subject of the presidential canvass in Louisiana and Florida. The most important addition to the facts ascertained by that committee would be the depositions of McLinn and Dennis, together with other authenticated papers in that connection which it is claimed can be readily produced, and are the first admissions of frauds by parties directly concerned in participating in them. Few if any of the Democrats anticipate that congress will take any action disturbing the official position of President Hayes and many of them desire to go no further than place the records of fraud that may be produced before any committee that may be authorized to receive them. No line of conduct has yet been agreed upon relative to the subject although there is much speculation concerning it.

Friends of the Texas Pacific [illegible] say that the bill recently introduced by Senator Johnson as a compromise between the Texas Pacific and the Southern Pacific is in no sense in the interest of [illegible]. They claim Johnson is a friend of their measure and are sanguine of passing the bill as reported by the Pacific railroad committee.

High Order of Masonry.

A number of distinguished Masons met here yesterday and formed the Royal Order of Scotland. This order has never existed outside of Scotland.

THE EASTERN QUESTION.

Raised to a Peerage.

London, May 3. The elevation of the Right Hon Gathorne Hardy to a peerage with the title of Viscount Cranbrook is gazetted.

A Peace Memorial.

London, May 4.—A memorial circulated by the eastern question association regretting the calling out of the reserves and expressing the belief that no sufficient obstacle exists to prevent the assembling of the congress has been signed by 17 000 persons including the Dukes of Westminster and Bedford, Marquis of Bath, Bishops of Exeter and Oxford, several noblemen, Mr Carlyle, Rev Mr Spurgeon, Dr Newman Hall, Mr Robert Browning and Sir Charles Hall and presented to the queen.

A Question of Principle the Principal Question.

London, May 5.—Notwithstanding the hopeful news of Russian concessions announced from Vienna and intimated from St Petersburg it cannot be said there is any positive change in the principle of the questions in dispute. It is said a conciliatory disposition has prevailed in the council of the St. Petersburg government, but it is asked what does Russia consider at this moment to be a peaceful concession or conciliatory proposal. The fresh attempt to reach an understanding is described as getting over the difficulties of form by making a far reaching concession on the merits of the question, but the misfortune seems to be in what the Russians consider a question of principle. England demands the placing of the treaty of St Stefano before the congress for unreserved discussion. Russia it is said, refuses to give way on that point. In Berlin as in London the subject is treated with skepticism as long as it is known Russia refuses to yield on the chief point and that England maintains her demand.

Significant Appointment.

St Petersburg, May 5.—Considerable political importance is attached to the appointment of Prince Labanoff Russian ambassador to the Porte. The prince is understood to favor amicable arrangement of the existing difference.

Several News Items.

London, May 5.—The Times Pera correspondent telegraphs that Gen Todleben is taking the Rhodaphe insurrection vigorously in hand.

Reports are current respecting the withdrawal of Russian troops beyond the neutral zone.

Gen Todleben is desirous of taking up a strong defensive position.

The Bassiret, a newspaper of Constantinople, says that in case of war between England and Russia, Turkey will be neutral, but adds that the question is too much involved to allow definite conviction on the subject.

English Fortification.

The British admiralty has ordered that the island of Heligoland be promptly and efficiently fortified.

Return of Refugees.

Constantinople, May 5.—A Russo Turkish convention has been concluded, arranging for the return of Turkish refugees to their homes. Only those will be sent back at present who belong to localities occupied by Russians outside of the principality of Bulgaria. Russian troops will accompany the refugees to protect them and restore their property. The expenses will be borne by Turkey.

A Shaky Minister.

The position of Sadyk Pasha, chief of the ministry, is shaken.

Improved Peace Prospects.

St Petersburg, May 5.—The Agence Russe says a much better impression prevails respecting the prospect of negotiations. It is rumored that the approaching arrival of Count Schouvaloff here on a visit is connected with the friendly exchange of views resulting from pour parlers between London and St Petersburg.

Giving up their Towns.

The Turks have evacuated Artion, in the pashalik of Trebizonde. This is considered the commencement of the execution of the treaty of San Stefano.

Servian Advance.

Belgrade, May 5.—Servian detachments are advancing gradually toward the Prisrend Mitrovitza and Salonica railway at Uskupur. Their progress has been impeded by guerrilla warfare.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

Germany to Present the Treaty.

Vienna, May 5.—Germany proposes to place the treaty of San Stefano before the congress instead of Russia doing so. This offer has not yet been accepted.

Jury Trials in Russia.

St Petersburg, May 4.—The police are searching for Vera Sassulitch the woman who attempted to assassinate Gen Trepoff, in order to arrest her, but thus far without success. The public prosecutor has appealed against the verdict acquitting her. It is regarded as certain that the jury will be abolished in trials for political offenses of a grave character or assaults on functionaries while engaged in the performance of their duties. Special deliberations will soon be opened on this subject. Centralization of political trials in the capital will also cease.

On His Way to Europe.

London, May 4.—The shah of Persia reached Tabreez yesterday on his way to Europe.

Gen Grant at Milan.

Milan, May 4.—Gen Grant, wife and son leave to-night for Turin.

Heavy Failures.

London, May 4.—Carbolt & McLamont, builders of London, Putnam, Surbyton and Westgate-on-sea, have failed. Liabilities $7,000 000, assets upwards of 1,000 houses valued at $2,500 to $40 000 each.

The Lord Leitrim Murder.

After examination the prisoners have been held for the murder of Lord Leitrim.

Prusso-Vatican Relations.

Rome, May 4.—The congregation of cardinals, which was directed to study the Prussian ecclesiastical laws in order to pronounce whether they are acceptable to the church, is understood to have arrived at a decision calculated to greatly facilitate the re-establishment of relations between Germany and the Vatican.

Curci Retracts.

London, May 5.—The Paris Union publishes a retraction by Father Curci, in which he declares he entirely adheres to all the teachings of the church respecting the temporal power of the pope.

SOUTH AMERICA.

Loss of the Hazleton.

Valparaiso, March 24.—The ship P. R. Hazleton from New York to San Francisco at the time of striking the west end of Wallastan Island, was getting through the Sound to escape a gale prevailing outside. A boat containing Capt Harriman's son, the second mate and six men is missing.

Gen Shields and his Friends.

[From the New York Tribune.]

Gen Shields says that two of the bravest of his old soldiers are in the senate. Senator Oglesby was with me at Cerro Gordo and helped guard me when I was shot through the lungs. And Senator Dorsey served gallantly with [illegible] of picked men in the late war. [illegible] Gen Butler he said the other day [illegible] I had no personal acquaintance with Gen Butler until now. I find however that my friends in New England were his friends and [illegible] I did not [illegible] to ask him to [illegible] of my pension. I consider Gen Butler a noble hearted, big brained man and that the liberal element throughout New England regard him as their champion.

POLITICS AT WASHINGTON.

Democratic Caucus and Campaign.

Washington, May 3.—At the Democratic caucus this afternoon there were present Senators Wallace, McDonald, Jones of Florida, Cockrell and Ransom and Representatives Randall, Banning, Blackburn, Morrison, Reagan, Ward, Clark of Missouri and Jones of New Hampshire. Senators McDonald and Jones and Representatives Blackburn, Banning and Morrison were appointed an executive campaign committee and instructed to actively co-operate with the resident committee and national executive committee for campaign purposes. The redistricting of Ohio was discussed, and it was the sentiment of the committee that the state should be redistricted in accordance with the law so as to give the Democrats their rightful preponderance. The question as to methods to be employed to raise funds to carry on the active work of the campaign was left to the discussion of the campaign committee. The recent development of the alleged Florida election frauds was briefly discussed and the determination arrived at was that no resolution on the subject shall be introduced on Monday next, although it was generally contended that the honor of the American people required a thorough investigation for the purpose of laying before the country a complete history of those frauds.

The Doings of the Caucus.

There is much talk to-day concerning the negative action taken by the joint caucus committee of Democratic senators and representatives last night in regard to the proposed Florida investigation. It is learned that one of the Democratic senators put the case in a manner which created a profound impression. He said an investigation of these alleged frauds if solemnly ordered by the house of representatives must be for one or both of two objects. If it is to take steps to oust Hayes there are not said he two Democrats out of ten who desire to get Tilden in the White House, but if the object were merely to make party capital he greatly doubted its expediency. He predicted that the Republicans would in the first place insist on extending the investigation to embarrassing limits, and they would also effectively argue that Democrats were endeavoring to disturb the peace of the country to create revolution against the decision of a tribunal established by Democratic votes, and to put Tilden in the White House although his own party don't want him there. Moreover if the investigations were vigorously pressed it would solidify the factions of the Republican party and give a cohesive strength to an organization which he believed was disintegrating. As a result of this and similar plain talk from several other members of the caucus it was decided to restrain the Democratic Hotspurs—at least for the present—and the resolution which was to have been brought forward in the house will be suppressed.

Preparing for the Campaign.

Chicago, May 5.—The Journal's Washington special says the executive committee of the Republican congressional committee met last night to talk over the approaching campaign and partially agreed upon a line of policy. No disposition was manifested to antagonize the president. The expressions of opinion were of such a character as to indicate that the committee will favor an active campaign in certain sections of the south. Sub committees were appointed on the publication of documents and on finance, etc. It was said the outlook for obtaining plenty of money to run the campaign is very encouraging.

CONGRESSIONAL.

House.

Washington, May 4.

Pension bills passed last night numbered 100—among them pensions to widows of Gen Robert Anderson, Gen Chas L Lovell and Admiral Chas Wilkes.

Stephens reported a bill to retire the five and three cent silver pieces and to stop their further coinage, also providing that fractional or subsidiary silver coin shall be a legal tender to the extent of $20 and shall be exchangeable at the treasury for other legal tender money when presented in sums of $20 or over.

The house took up the unfinished business of yesterday—the legislative appropriation bill.

Banks made a point of order on the amendment offered by Gibson for the re-establishment of the branch mint at New Orleans—that it was new legislation and not in the interest of economy.

After a long argument the point of order was overruled.

The house then began to vote on the various amendments agreed to in committee of the whole. The first one on which a division was asked was increasing the clerical force in the office of the surgeon general. The amendment was resisted generally on the democratic side. The vote resulted—yeas 115, nays 111. All the Republicans voted for the amendment and the Democrats with the exception of Stephens of Georgia, and six others voted against it. The speaker cast his vote in the negative, tieing the vote and defeating the amendment. The next vote was taken on the motion to strike out the section which authorizes the entire clerical force, six excepted, on the medical and surgical history of the war to be employed on work necessary to the prompt payment of pensions. The motion was rejected—yeas 108, nays 115—and was supported on the republican side as being necessary for the quicker dispatch of business in the decision of pension claims.

WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

Hon Elwood Evans of Olympia read a useful paper recently on the value of forests, before the Olympia academy of sciences.

In parts of Washington territory they have a peculiar way of conducting elections. At a poll in Pacific county 11 votes were thrown out because they were for the wrong man.

Shelton & Forbes on Oyster bay, Mason county, put into water 2 180 000 feet of logs from the 28th day of September until the 1st day of May. The camp at no time has had over 15 men and seven yoke of oxen.

One hundred barrels of the Tacoma lime were shipped over the railroad to Kalama last week. The lime men are vigorously pushing work at the quarries and expect soon to be able to ship 100 barrels per week regularly.

Placer mining is being carried on by 15 Chinamen and five white men on the Skikomish, a tributary of the Snohomish, about 16 miles above Snohomish City. The average pay is not stated, but considerable prospecting in that vicinity this summer is anticipated.

Olympia and Tenino Railroad.

[From the Olympia Transcript.]

The locomotive for our railroad, named the E. N. Ouimette, arrived at San Francisco early this week, from Pittsburgh, and the directors have telegraphed the payment of the freight. The parties below are turning out the rails and all iron necessary as rapidly as possible, all of which will be shipped for this port at an early day.

The work on the grade is going on very rapidly both at Tumwater and Tenino. The tearing away of a part of the upper Tumwater bridge commenced yesterday, but the bridge will be ready for travel again on Monday or Tuesday. The end of the bridge is to be lowered and the upper side of the hill graded away instead of extending the bridge over the track.

The work of driving piles from Warren's Point to Marshville bridge has been commenced by Messr Littlejohn & French and this work will be pushed energetically forward. The piles are gotten out by Mr Wellman on the opposite side of the bay within a short distance of where they will be used.

The depot has been established in Marshville bridge about two thirds of the way over, where there is plenty of room for piling and erecting buildings.

The President's Title Unassailable.

[From the New Orleans Democrat.]

The country accepted the electoral commission device and the results reached by the commission as a method of averting civil [illegible] revolution. Through that device Mr Hayes gained the presidential chair. But it is not true that his title to the presidency depends on the decisions of the commission. It rests on the declaration of both houses of congress expressed in accordance with the requirements of the constitution. There is no power on earth that can go behind that declaration. An attempt to do it by the judiciary would be an attempt on the part of one branch of the government to usurp the functions of the other branches.

PACIFIC COAST NEWS.

CALIFORNIA.

Industrial School Management.

San Francisco, April 3.—The board of supervisors this evening investigated the charges against the management of the industrial school. The evidence adduced showed at the best, very loose management and tended to sustain the charges.

The Workingmen's Row.

At a meeting of the seventh ward club of workingmen this evening Linehan, the president, tendered his resignation. The club which it is claimed had been packed by Kearney, accepted the resignation. Kearney then made a speech in the course of which he said that one hundred thousand men were arming and drilling in the east to support their fellow workingmen in California, and that the time for action was near at hand. He also stated that he had secured the services of a number of women and children, who would be present at the polls on election day to influence by their appeals the votes of citizens in behalf of the labor movement.

Mr O'Brien's Funeral.

San Francisco, May 4.—The funeral of W S O'Brien was largely attended. The society of Pioneers and Exempt Firemen assembled at the residence where friends took a final look at the deceased. The coffin was then borne to St Mary's cathedral—the Pioneers, Exempts and friends marching in procession. The church was densely crowded. The coffin was covered with floral offerings and surrounded by insignia of the church placed in the nave. Funeral services and solemn high mass were celebrated. Both the San Francisco and Pacific stock boards adjourned, and members bearing mourning badges attended the funeral in a body. At the close of the services the procession formed and took up line of march for Calvary Cemetery where the closing rites are now being held.

Arrest for Forgery.

I Enrich was arrested this afternoon pursuant to an indictment by the grand jury for forgery in connection with the alleged frauds in the street department.

Bills Cut Down.

The city and county attorney has directed the superintendent of streets to cut down the Chronicle and Post bills for publishing resolutions of intention to conform with the established customs of the office. In accordance with the instructions the bills have been cut down one half and the assessment made on that basis.

A Shove is not an Assault.

In the police court to-day the case of John Hayes on trial for shoving Dennis Kearney off the platform at Platt's Hall anti-Spring Valley meeting some weeks ago, was concluded by the dismissal of the charge against Hayes. Judge Louderback concluded his decision as follows:

Under the circumstances of this case I think the conduct of Dennis Kearney in seizing the organization and controlling the proceedings of the meeting was unjustifiable and illegal; that the law views his acts as an intrusion and violation of the rights of the persons who originated the meeting and the right of the people peaceably to assemble for lawful purposes. There was no blow given in this case. It was a shove. It was not given by the defendant for the purposes of assault or injury, but in the assertion of his right against the alleged acts of Dennis Kearney. The case is dismissed.

Grand Jury Report.

The report of the grand jury was presented to-day. Among the indictments are sixteen against J C Duncan for forgery, two for perjury and one for embezzlement. Six for forgery were found against Duncan's son in law, Le Warne. Ten for forgery were found against H Kolahl, cashier of Duncan's bank and one of embezzlement. The charge of perjury against Thomas Gray, figurehead president of the bank and father in law of Duncan, was ignored, also charges of felony against J C Merrill, owner, and Captain Jenks, commander of the schooner E J McKinnon. The bills against W T, son of J C Duncan and M J Duval, broker, for their share in assisting Duncan in his attempt to escape, were ignored.

Ten indictments are withheld from publication at present in the interests of justice. The grand jury recommends great care in selecting delegates to the constitutional convention, also recommends that citizens form a kind of protective association to guard the treasury against the attacks of corrupt officials, legislators et id omne genus. They find most of the public institutions in good condition but find that the supplies furnished to the house of correction are of bad quality; make a number of recommendations regarding street work, paving, cleaning, etc., and denounce patent pavements in toto. They pronounce in favor of finding some work for prisoners confined in county jails that will conflict as little as possible with the interests of the laboring classes. The attention of the board of health is called to the miasma breeding Mission swamp. The suppression of dives is strongly recommended, and also a careful scrutiny of a thousand and one corner groceries and attendant groggeries. Evidence of much loose practice in affairs in the street department is found and reform urged.

Kibesillah, Cal, May 4.—While working upon Miller's chute at the mouth of Cotta Neva creek yesterday afternoon C C Milton fell about 40 feet into the ocean and was drowned.

NEVADA.

Scalded to Death.

Virginia, May 4.—James Heffernan, a miner, was scalded to death in the Savage this morning.

Work Resumed.

The G & C shaft will resume hoisting at 3 to-day.

The Bullion Tax Suits.

In the back bullion tax suits Judge Rising held that separate suit must be instituted for each separate cause of complaint. In the district court this morning the state having neglected to file new complaints default was entered against the state in each case. This will not prejudice the final results of the suits, the district attorney says, as the matter has been taken to the supreme court. The cases will not probably be called up in the supreme court for two or three months.

Repairs in the Bonanza Mines.

Virginia City, May 4.—The cage in the middle compartment of the Con Virginia shaft was taken out this morning. The other two compartments will be shut down to-morrow or Monday as the C and C shaft is now working again. In the mine there are only 50 men at work on a shift. No ore is being extracted; the men are all working on repairs on sill floors, tracks, switches and drifts. The latter originally fully seven feet high, are now barely five feet high, and in some places they are even less than that in height. In repairing the shaft it will be necessary to survey and plumb it from top to bottom and the guides must be moved from the 100 down to the 500 foot level. It will not be necessary to remove the wall plates or main timbers throughout, however as only a part of the shaft is in a really dangerous condition, and that which will require the most labor to straighten is between the 1 150 and 1 500 foot levels. By to-morrow or Monday ore will again be raised through the C and C shaft and enough ore will be extracted to pay $1 dividend on Consolidated Virginia stock without interruption. California dividends will continue at $2 each as heretofore, as the extraction of the usual quantity of ore from that mine continues uninterrupted.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

Differences in the Anglican Synod--The Queen's Birthday--Shipping News.

Victoria, May 4.—There was an acrimonious debate at the meeting of the Anglican synod yesterday, the arch-deacon attacking the bishop's policy in his treatment of the clergy and the management of the diocese.

Extensive preparations are being made for the celebration of the queen's birthday. Visitors are expected from Oregon, Washington territory and other points.

The ships Belvedere and War Hawk are loading Vancouver coal at Nanaimo for San Francisco.

The brig [illegible] is loading at Wellington for Oakland, California, and the bark [illegible] is taking on board cargo for the Bay City at the Douglas pit wharf.

The ships [illegible] and [illegible], coal laden for San Francisco, have gone to sea.

In the May Harper George William Curtis says that Daniel Webster on the evening of March 6, 1850 said to a friend, a member of congress at that time: "To-morrow I am going to annihilate you —— abolitionists."

DELIGHTFUL EGOTISM

Mr Beriah Brown of the Seattle Dispatch, formerly of Wisconsin and subsequently an editor in San Francisco and Portland, has a delightful egotism which he exhibits in the most ingenious and surprising ways, not even allowing courtesy toward others to interfere with it. Two or three days ago he managed a thing whereby he was able to croon his own praises in a most delicate and admirable way. True, he had to attempt a slur on Oregon editors to make the feat effective, but this may be overlooked in view of the brilliant success of the maneuver. As the modest gem should be preserved we rescue it from the Dispatch and give it a setting where somebody will see it. And, without more ado here it is:

A reunion of the founders of the state of Wisconsin was recently held at Madison on the 30th anniversary of the organization of the state government. The roll of the members of the constitutional convention was called; a majority were reported dead and the absent living were accounted for by their friends present. When the name of Paul Crandall was called it was stated that he had been a resident of Washington territory for many years. Mr Crandall has resided near Salem, Oregon, for at least twenty years past. General George B Smith, formerly attorney general of Wisconsin, pronounced a glowing eulogy upon another citizen whom he spoke of as "not a member of the convention he did more to shape its policy than any other man," "one of the ablest editors ever in Wisconsin," "the recognized leader of his party," "a man who did more to advance the interests of Wisconsin than any other man in the state," and much more of the same sort, all of which we have no doubt was very gratifying to the person alluded to, but he wound up his speech by saying that "he is now an editor in Oregon, without knowing what a degree of degradation that statement implied." We know the person alluded to—but will not here mention his name—has not been an editor in Oregon for the last eight years certainly.

OREGON.

The cannery at Gardiner is putting up a large quantity of herring.

Two physicians of Baker City have treated 12 cases of diphtheria since last November.

Some time since the Dayton & Grand Ronde railroad company made a proposition to the people of Dallas to build an extension of that line to their place, provided the sum of $15 000 was subscribed. Thursday evening a mass meeting was held and the case stated to the people and with their usual enterprise they immediately commenced subscribing, and before the meeting had adjourned the required sum of $15,000 was guaranteed. The contract terms are that the cars shall begin to run by the first of October, 1878. The entire length of this road, when completed, will be about thirty miles, through an extremely fertile country.

Simplifying Matters.

[From the Buffalo Express.]

The Father of his Country was an astute husband, and singularly just. "Martha," he said three days after his marriage, "we might as well understand each other. I am prepared to admit that the late Mr Custis was the best man that ever lived. He was a good provider and most excellent in every conceivable way. But he is dead. I am frank to say that I cannot weep over it. It is simply so. Let us not resurrect him. Let the dear old fellow rest in peace. He was too good for this world. We will not call him back. Let me hear no more regarding the late Mr Custis, my dear." And those simple words, firmly spoken, secured Mr Washington much peace.

High Price for Poetry.

It is not quite true that the price paid by the Nineteenth Century to Tennyson for his fine ballad of "The Revenge" is the highest paid in our time to a poet. The ballad contains 120 lines, and the author received for it 300 guineas, or $12 50 a line. Mr Robert Bonner paid Longfellow for the "Hanging of the Crane" $4 000. That poem contains 200 lines, at which rate the poet received $20 a line. For "Tithonus," published in an early number of the Cornhill Magazine, Tennyson received 100 guineas or $7 25 a line, and Tom Moore was much exulted in receiving a guinea a line.

Pertinent Questions.

[From the Salem Statesman.]

By what authority of law did Treasurer Brown draw from the general fund by warrant February 25 1875, No 634, the sum of $1 034 067? Who pocketed the interest on $40,000 lock bond funds during the fiscal years 1875-76? By what authority of law did J B Hackleman draw from the state land fund during the years of 1875-76 the sum of $2,582 33?

VIEWS NEARER HOME

A fearful threat is made by the Albany Democrat Charging upon its opponents with quixotic dash and spirit it cries out The presidential steal shall burn in their ears all over the canvass and shall reach as far as Democratic speakers and journals can travel' Perhaps this terrible menace will be withdrawn now since it is announced that the Democratic caucus of members of congress at Washington has decided to put a quietus upon the resolution urged by Montgomery Blair The argument that led to the decision to suppress the resolution may be gently commended to the attention of those who propose to make the matter burn in certain ears all over Oregon at this particular time We are told that it is an investigation which the Republicans would perversely push to embarrassing limits. That is for example there might be inquiry as to the manner and methods by which a Republican majority of fifty thousand was suppressed in Mississippi and a Democratic majority of fifty thousand substituted for it The entire budget of secrets which already has partly leaked out concerning the use made of that barrel of money, would be demanded and the whole country would be let into a knowledge of the peculiar methods on which the great reform campaign was conducted It were best for the party no doubt that these mysteries should never be revealed to vulgar eyes Again not two Democrats in ten want old Tilden in the White House and on the whole the Democracy can't afford to make investigation of the steal a party policy Under these discouraging circumstances it is not going to be an easy thing to make the subject a burning one in Oregon just now It has grown too cold to cauterize anybody s ears withal, and the intention may as well go to sleep with the resolution relating to the Blair inquiry

But there is a subject which now is addressing itself to many ears in Oregon It is not so distant as to require the application of a telephone to hear it It is right here at home The people of Oregon are not now to vindicate Samuel Jones Tilden especially since his friends in Washington have given up that job as hopeless but they do want a better and more economical management of their state government Methods almost without number have been devised and put in force to increase the cost of the government beyond the constitutional limits, and beyond all honest limits. People of Oregon just now are not mourning so much over the alleged wrongs of Mr Tilden as they are anxious to see this superfluity of expense lopped off The administration of the past eight years has not been such as to give much reason to hope for good results from its continuance This is a subject which is making more ears burn throughout Oregon than any recital of Mr Tilden's griefs and disappointments. Our journalistic friend at Albany would do well to close up his telescope through which he is so intently gazing at distant things and look a little into the management of our state affairs. There is a fine chance for the exercise of talents nearer home

SATURDAY'S PRIMARIES

The Republican, or rather the Mitchell primaries, which were held on Saturday, were conducted under good discipline and with even more than customary energy They were organized and directed mainly by the federal office-holders, and were the result of meetings and caucuses which had been continued during two months, or more. The job went off very smoothly, only those participating who insist on having only Mitchell men for the legislature All other Republicans stood aloof and will take such action as they see fit hereafter At the nightly meetings held for some time past the whole primaries were organized persons were selected as delegates, and others were appointed to serve as judges and clerks For this latter service some were sent to act out of their own precincts. Considering that there was little or no opposition to the programme there was unnecessary amount of exertion to swell the poll lists and stuff the boxes with the ' straight ticket ' For many weeks the managers of the Mitchell movement have been laboring to organize and control a certain body of workingmen, so-called Part of the ticket which was thrown out by these managers through this organization recently it is understood was "ratified' at the primaries on Saturday. But the result of this manipulation will not be accepted by the whole organization referred to Already many of the members denounce it. It is charged that the Mitchell politicians have not kept faith with the organization The workingmen, it is said, were to have twenty three of the delegates to the convention as their share, but were beaten by a sharping trick, so that they got only four. Eagerness to have a convention which would not fail to nominate a full list of Mitchell men for the legislature produced this reported breach of faith It is understood that the workingmen's organization has been insisting on naming three of the members but the managers deem this unsafe, and now have the game in their own hands. The question is coming plainly before the people of Multnomah county whether they will support and elect a legislative ticket nominated exclusively in the interest of Mr Mitchell or not The party represented by the convention which will meet next Saturday will be a Mitchell party exclusively, not the Republican party To what extent his allegiance is due to such organization each Republican will decide for himself During the week the regency will select the ticket, in so far as that matter has not already been attended to, and on Saturday it will be submitted to a dutiful convention and accepted without a break in the programme

PROBABLY WILL GO OVER

It is now certain that if the Northern Pacific bill is to be at all useful to the country for the construction of any road it must be shorn of certain encumbrances that now clearly are fatal to it. Effort has been made to secure pledges of capital on the grant proposed by the bill but nobody will touch it Whether further effort will be made during the present session of congress to secure legislation which will help not retard the construction of a railroad we are not advised but it looks as if the whole matter were to be dropped as hopeless for the present The Tacoma Herald discussing the subject says

The house bill may come to the front again or the whole matter may be allowed to go over until another session of congress The many events connected with the career of the Northern Pacific extension bills in the present congress have shown the friends of the road that the people s representatives are willing to aid the enterprise and had it not been for the active opposition of its enemies the extension would have been granted before this Should the matter lie over for another year the prospects will be even better than now for the misrepresentations that have been retarding the progress of the legislation upon the subject will have been cleared up and the true interests of the people will be better understood

In a long article the San Francisco Chronicle presents a review of statistics of suicide in that city since 18.0 The results fully bear out the striking statement elaborated by Buckle to the effect that in any given state of society the number of suicides bears a steady and nearly regular proportion and therefore is controlled by an overruling law The Chronicle's conclusions are these First suicidal death is more frequent in San Francisco than anywhere else in the civilized world and more frequent now than at any previous date Second it is accompanied by a similar pre eminence and development of insanity which appears to prove that both have a common origin Third this remarkable prevalence of insanity and suicide and the increase of both in late years corresponds with that development of stock gambling and jobbing which if allowed to proceed much further will force every dollar of capital out of the state reduce the masses of the people to despair and utterly bankrupt the community

Gen James A Garfield who was a member of the court martial which tried Gen Fitz John Porter has been interviewed on the subject of reopening the case He believes that the verdict of the court was just and while he did not think Porter was a traitor nor naturally disloyal to his country he was disloyal to his command during an important battle and for the time he was disloyal to his country and he could not conceive that anything found in confederate archives upon which Porter relies for a reversal of the verdict, could have anything to do with the case

No one says the New York Times knows better than Prince Gortschakoff the value of a graceful and unexpected concession of some point which trivial in itself has been artfully magnified by long insisting upon it This observation is a key to much of Russia s recent diplomacy By such policy collision with England has so far been averted During several months past it has been stated on repeated occasions when affairs seemed very critical that Russia had receded, but the event proved that the two countries were no nearer a final solution

It begins to look as if southern Democrats were fearing independent movements and seeking to forestall them The executive committee of that party in South Carolina insists that each aspirant for office must give the following pledge I agree to abide by and support the nominations of the Democratic party, and not to accept either a nomination or an office from any other source than the regularly constituted Democratic organization Why not shoot the deserters?

Gen Upton, of the United States army in his report upon the armies of Europe and Asia, expresses a doubt as to England s ability to cope single handed with either Austria, France Germany or Russia In case of war with Russia he says, ' We may safely anticipate that the war will be followed either by the speedy reorganization of the English army, or by the total abandonment of the policy of armed intervention in foreign affairs

A California paper says Sargent is trying to create the impression that it was Hayes' civil service order that defeated him for the United States senate. The fact is all the office holders in America couldn t have saved his bacon The people in his case were determined to execute a civil service order for themselves and retire him from office A parallel movement is now in progress in Oregon

The New York Bulletin remarks with much truth that one of the most serious hindrances to the return of better times is the vast number of young men who are adrift in the large cities who can get nothing to do simply because they can do nothing that anybody wants done There is wisdom enough in this simple suggestion to furnish food for much wholesome meditation.

The third national bank of Cincinnati which was the first bank in the west that began to redeem its notes in gold, found little use for its gold On the first day it paid out only $300 Next day the Northwestern bank of Chicago began but was called on for only $100

In the river and harbor bill there are appropriations for the upper Mississippi and its tributaries which amount to $1,169 000 Among the items is one of $30 000 for the Missouri above the mouth of the Yellowstone

Though Blair exclaims ' stop thief his party refuses to join the hue and cry And Blair's little business is consigned to boredom in company with the McGarrahan case and the Beecher scandal

Silver continues lower in London than when our silver bill was enacted The real value of the new buzzard dollar is about 91 cents

Hon Edward McPherson for a number of years clerk of the house of representatives and president of the Cincinnati convention is mentioned as a prominent candidate of the Republicans for governor of Pennsylvania.

Conversation was carried on by parties in the office here with Mr Hamilton in the Roseburg office in quite an intelligible manner, though it being Mr Hamilton's first attempt to use the instrument, his utterances were sometimes indistinct. Single words could be heard and understood very readily, but in long sentences the words became somewhat mixed and though the sounds could be heard the sense failed sometimes to be understood The distance by wire is 208 miles and the particular is an ordinary tone of voice The instrument used is that of the American Telephone Co., for which Mr Lamb is the agent

RUNAWAY.—At 5 30 P M. yesterday a horse and express wagon without a driver, went tearing through the streets somewhat after the style of John Gilpin's celebrated wedding ride, and as usual there was a generous amount of yelling and insane attempts to stop the horse, but the well meant endeavors only increased the scare and speed of the poor beast as it rushed up Front street Opposite THE OREGONIAN office we saw some parties throw pieces of lumber at the horse—intending doubtless to head him off One man threw a fair sized board with the same good intention and a piece of wood hit the poor frightened creature on the rump and back and the head by its clatter just drove the animal to desperation, and impelled us in our hunger from there to record the foregoing, and at the same time to suggest that throwing things at a runaway team greatly aggravates the difficulty. Please don't.

BETHEL SERVICES.—For the first time in the history of the labors of the "Portland Seaman's Friend Society," the Bethel flag floats at half mast on the bark Barracouta—where Chaplain Stubbs held his usual Sabbath service. Here also we noticed the British ensign hung in the same mournful way at the same mizen peak, because of the death by drowning of the carpenter on Saturday night. Quite a large audience, on the wharves and on the vessel deck, gave respectful attention to the chaplain's discourse on the words, "Let your light so shine before men that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven." Matt vi 5 At the close of the services—in which quite a number of ladies participated, helping greatly by their service of song—quite an amount of religious reading was distributed by the chaplain among the seamen and others present.

DROWNED.

Richard Horton the carpenter on board the vessel Barracouta which lies moored at Flanders wharf, opposite the foot of C street fell overboard Saturday night about 11 30 o clock and was drowned before assistance could reach him Shortly after 11 o clock Horton was observed by the steward and one of the sailors sitting on the gang plank These men had been ashore and were coming on board the vessel Observing Horton sitting there the men stopped and asked him why he was sitting there at that hour of the night Horton told them to go along remarking that he was all right They went on board the vessel and a few minutes later heard Horton calling loudly for help Both men ran out on deck It was extremely dark at the time and nothing could be seen of Horton but they could hear him splashing in the water and calling for a rope A rope was quickly lowered and also a boat and search was made for him It was unavailing and after a long search the men gave it up Early yesterday morning the efforts were renewed After dragging the river for some time in front of the wharf the body of poor Horton was found about 9 o clock The coroner was notified who had the body removed to the morgue and soon after an inquest was held Several witnesses were examined from whom the facts as given above were elicited The following verdict was rendered

We the jury find that the name of the deceased was Richard Horton a native of England and about thirty five years of age He was at the time of his death employed as carpenter on board the ship Barracouta now lying at Flanders wharf in this city He came to his death by drowning in the Willamette river on the night of May 4 1878 while in a state of partial intoxication J J Fenster Wm A Daly Jas H Ritchy Edward Holman N Delin F F Hodgkin

Deceased was a married man and leaves a wife and two children in or near Liverpool To day the body will be buried Funeral will take place from Coroner Delin's place of business services being conducted by Chaplain Stubbs

THE BODY OF AN UNKNOWN MAN FOUND FLOATING IN THE RIVER

Saturday morning at an early hour the body of an unknown man was found floating in the river opposite the foot of Madison street It was secured and Coroner Delin notified who summoned a jury and proceeded to hold an inquest From appearances the body had been in the water a long time The remains were in advanced stages of decomposition, and could not possibly be identified The body was that of a man about 5 feet 8 inches high wore No 8 boots cassimere vest and pantaloons blue shirt and red flannel undershirt Nothing whatever was found on the person of the deceased which could tend in any manner to throw light on the question of who he was The jury returned the following verdict

We the undersigned jurors summoned to appear before A P Delin coroner of Multnomah county on the 4th day of May to inquire into the cause of the death of an unknown man whose body was found floating in the Willamette river at the foot of Madison street having been duly sworn according to law, and having made such inquisition after inspecting the body and hearing the testimony adduced find that he came to his death by some cause not known to us but apparently by drowning H S Stephenson S F Mayers John H Stone W K Smith J K Mercer F R Neal

FIRE—This morning at half past 1 o'clock a fire broke out in a two story dwelling house on D street between First and Second The flames had a good start before the engines got to work, and the building was badly damaged, but by the quick work of the department the fire was soon subdued without much damage to the surrounding buildings which was very fortunate as they are all wooden structures the one on the corner of First being very large and used as a hotel The house was owned by S G Reed and was occupied by Mrs Buckley as a boarding house The loss will probably amount to $1 200 or $1 500

SUDDEN DEATH—About two o clock this morning a man who gave his name as John Hough was taken suddenly ill in a saloon at the lower part of the city and was taken in charge by Officers Sheehan and O'Shea, who started with him to the police station He was unable to walk and when in front of the New Market it became evident to the officers that he was about to die and called a physician who came in a few moments but before he arrived the man had breathed his last He was an old man and we believe but little known in the city

CHANGES IN THE SUN

THE [illegible] [illegible] OF [illegible] [illegible] MET

A writer in the Hartford Times gives the following facts and speculations: Our sun is still to undergo an enormous change developing undreampt of catastrophes, perhaps such as came to [illegible] neighboring planet whose path lay between Mars and Jupiter, and whose scattered and charred remains are speeding around the sun in an [illegible] eccentric manner. Our [illegible] astronomers have already gathered up [illegible] fragments from the asteroidal region, while thousands of minor pieces are yet to be counted.

Nor is this all; catastrophes may come in another way. A few years since were seen by two eminent observers two [illegible] flashes in the sun too [illegible] [illegible] even visible but through their telescopes they were plainly seen and noted and were supposed to arise from two large cosmic bodies striking the sun. The magnetic surrounding of the earth trembled and the earth felt the shock, and so did all our telegraphic operators. Indeed one of the horses in Norway was set on fire. Numerous auroras were seen all over the heavens about the same time.

And this was but the touch of a bolt or two. Suppose an unknown comet were to send its river of matter upon the sun. Then in an instant this earth and all its contents would become a red hot cinder—cremation with a vengeance. That these things are always happening is most certain. Often we get a telegram of light of this kind and are unerringly told of the destruction of a sun and its whole planetary system.

These telegrams have come to us from all parts of the heavens from the early days of the Chinese down to the recent conflagrations in the northern crown and in Cygnus. These have gone under the head of temporary stars. They blaze forth suddenly where no star was ever before seen. One was seen in Cassiopia in 1572. When first seen it was brighter than Sirius and soon became so brilliant that it could be seen in the daytime. It lasted sixteen months and vanished. The spectroscope here tells the fatal tale. Its analysis is fire—consuming fire.

We need not be much alarmed on this subject, though our turn must surely come, and we may expect it once in twenty billion of years. We have before our eyes at all times the processes of creation and destruction. The universe is being created to day as much as it ever was at any former time. Its destroying powers are as active as they ever were or ever will be. It is but aggregating and dispersion—the law of the atom and the universe the same as we see it in the two poles of the magnet—and typified in good and evil. Astronomy is the divine volume always spread out before us, with its everlasting influences.

Wonders of Electricity

[From the New York Sun.]

About two years ago Mr J B Fuller invented and exhibited an electric machine for telegraphic purposes. It then occurred to him that the same apparatus might with some changes, be made to produce an electric light, and after considerable labor he perfected his invention. It was in operation on Saturday evening in the rear of Maldoy's oyster depot at 12 Greenwich avenue. A small steam engine furnishes the motive power for the machine, which is very simple consisting of an armature revolving between the poles of a powerful electro-magnet. A strong current of electricity is thus generated. Two electric wires are attached to the machine, and they convey the electricity of the various burners. Each of these burners consists of two sticks of carbon separated by a piece of glass, which are attached in an upright position to the wires. The electricity is ignited by the application of an ordinary piece of metal to the burners. The light thus produced is dazzling, brilliant and very beautiful, so far surpassing the ordinary gaslight that the latter looks yellow and dirty beside it.

Any number of lights may be supplied by the same wires, and Fuller has succeeded in so subdividing the current of electricity that any one of the lights can be extinguished without effecting in the slightest degree the other lights on the same circuit. This had not been accomplished before. Mr Fuller says he can light buildings in any part of the city by extending his wires to them through the streets. He also says he can light the streets with electricity, and to prove this he has stretched his wires to a post on the sidewalk in front of the building, where he keeps a light burning every evening. The light is far more brilliant than any calcium light and illuminates the street for a block. One of these lights would illuminate a whole block, and far better, too, than a dozen or more of street lamps. In lighting up a house porcelain or ground glass shades are used for softening the glare of the light. The cost of the production is very slight, much less than that of ordinary gas.

Eastern Freights and Markets.

NEW YORK, May 4.—Clipper freights remain unchanged. There is a fair business doing but it is owing more to the very low rates of freights that are ruling than to any actual demand for goods. Shipments are mainly coarse freight, although there is yet a fair amount of dry goods going forward but the movement of this class of goods will soon cease till next season when they will be resumed. The ship Lorretto Fish sailed to day with 3,300 tons cargo, the leading items of which are 0 tons coal, 50 tons pig iron 3,419 bbls cement, 1 4 bbls whisky, 836 cases canned goods 777 pkgs dry goods 9 496 pkgs iron 49 bbls pork 150 cs olives, 350 bbls plaster, 2,249 pkgs pipe 1 000 boxes soap, 1,425 pkgs starch, 2,550 kegs nails, 458 pieces lumber, 8,500 cases petroleum, 170 bales hemp 500 cs spirits turpentine, 217 bbls rosin, 120 cs mustard 647 slabs spelter 200 bbls marble dust. Arrivals of tonnage have been free during the past week but the only engagement for the California trade is the Pelican 1,200 tons to follow the Charles H. Marshall in Simonson & Howe's line.

At Boston the freight market is very quiet owing to a lack of dead weight. The ship Brown Brothers is closing out with a lot of that class of freight sent by her agent at this port. Railroad freights at Boston continue to keep average. Shipments the past week amount to 4,370 pkgs of general merchandise including 1 269 pkgs fish also a lot of wire paper etc.

At Philadelphia the market remains quiet. The Pactolus is doing fairly, but not so well as the James Nesmith, which has only been in the berth a week.

Markets generally dull. Flour dull in buyers favor wheat steady at a decline pork dull and unsettled; Rio coffees unchanged refined sugars in moderate demand and steady teas quiet easier hides in fair demand prices steady turpentine and petroleum unchanged. The wool market presents no new features.

At Boston the market is unchanged.

Boston Wool Market.

BOSTON, May 4.—Wool in fair demand but prices remain low and without improvement. Holders are anxious to close up old stocks, but the low prices cause less pressure to sell. Sales of Ohio and Pennsylvania fleeces the past week include 143 000 lbs at 38@40c, mostly choice fine wool at 38c. This is all that can be obtained for best lots of XX in large lots. In Michigan fleeces sales were made of 120 000 lbs at 37½c but mostly of good average lots at 35@36c. Considerable business was doing in Oregon wool sales embracing 137 700 lbs at 23@30c for eastern and valley. But Texas wool cannot be quoted at over 25@26c. Combing and delaine wools dull at 37@45c. Sales of California wool were moderate comprising only 245 000 lbs for the week at 20@30c for spring, and 16@19 for fall. In pulled wools there was a fair business sales of 166 000 lbs at 29@45c, principally at 33@40c. Some small lots of choice merino and eastern supers sold at 42½@45c. Total sales of domestic for the week, 1 095,200.

Diseases of the Kidneys and Urinary Organs including Spermatorrhea Seminal Weakness or premature loss of Manhood. In the treatment of these diseases he has made a world wide reputation by his astonishing success not only on this Coast but throughout the whole United States. over most physicians—he can tell the patients disease the moment he comes in contact with them without any aid from the individual. This accounts in part for his great professional success.

All surgical operations can be performed by his skillful hand and the patient need not fear the result.

will send to those living at a distance and who cannot well visit his office a list of Printed Questions and by the answers when filled out he can tell the disease as well as the proper treatment almost as well as seeing the patient personally and will forward the proper medicines, or instruments to any part of the country with full instructions and advice. Each letter requiring advice or list of questions must contain two postage stamps.

THE DOCTOR

has studied in the best Medical Schools in Europe and three years in the Jefferson Medical College at Philadelphia as more than one of the Medical men of the Medical Faculty in this State can testify.

CAUTION

Persons coming to Portland requiring medical treatment of the proper kind who desire to consult with me will please beware of persons who may try to coax them away to other so called Doctors through pretended friendship for the patients. GENERAL NEWS.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

Labor Reformers.

NEW YORK, May 6.—The eighth annual convention of the American Labor Reform League commenced to day. E H Heywood, president, made the opening address saying that the league seeks liberty to assert the natural rights of all people to do their best at their own risk and to repeal all laws recognizing property and to abolish all monopolies which give property special advantages against labor. The following resolutions were adopted.

Resolved That since capitalists take life and destroy property to hold their power to steal the Kearney men who invoked the ballot in California, the Mollie Maguires, reported to have killed coal bosses, and railway strikers are morally law-ful belligerents justly exercising the same rights of defensive warfare as planned in tipping British tea into Boston harbor by John Brown's march on Harper's Ferry and in the killing of pro slavery southerners by northern unionists.

Resolved That the chief mission of the silver bill and greenback movement is to hasten repudiation, when debts paid once in the form of interest will be paid forever and we hail the growing irresistible tendencies in the south and west to second the purposes of New England labor reformers by abolishing all power to get pay for loans, stocks or other valuables more than once.

Resolved That the National and Workingmen's parties, like their older brethren in the Republicans and Democrats, by ensnaring the usurpations the enslave defraud and despoil woman, that demanding for her equal pay for equal work with men, we seek industrial equity to erase sex lines as well as race and color lines from labor reform.

At the afternoon session Mr Heywood made an address on labor greenbacks and free love questions. Geo W Maddox said New York ought to issue its own money, build markets docks and other improvements, and he hoped by the eternal, that the people would starve in order to awake them to these facts. He said if these things could not be got by the ballot box then he favored getting them by the cartridge box. He would make it a state's prison offense for any men to hold more real estate than was necessary to support him. The laborer wants wealth and it should belong to him. Similar addresses were made by others. At the evening session Mrs Anna M. Middlebrook of Connecticut spoke on woman's rights labor and population. Other addresses were also made.

NEW YORK May 6.—The Tribune's Washington special says the Post will to-morrow publish a double leaded editorial showing why Tilden refused to take the oath of the presidential office prior to March 4th 1877.
